

CCIF - Halifax

Recycled Parts Information Providers Forum

Allied Information Canada

Ron Van Raamsdonk

Allied Information Canada

Does your system allow you to grade parts?

- Yes
- The recycler can add notes
- Automatic hits don't always provide enough information

Allied Information Canada

What tools does your system provide to help recyclers meet industry standards?

Inventory matches are basic

System allows recycler to be very specific through notes, Damage codes and Part inclusion

Pictures can be attached by all parties

Allied Information Canada

How does system assist stakeholders in locating/gaining access to parts data?

Data offered through participating recyclers

Recyclers without IMS can participate

Can send one request with multiple parts

Allied Information Canada

Current users

90% of BC recyclers currently participate

Significant number in Alberta & Saskatchewan

A few in Manitoba

ICBC express body shops use it

SGI uses it

Canadian Direct Insurance also use it

Allied Information Canada

How do stakeholders gain access to parts and data?

- High speed internet connection
- Information management program installed by Allied –
- Any part can be requested with or without part number information by sending “request for recycled part”

Allied Information Canada

How does system promote recycled parts?

By having IMS software installed at sites, training seminars, and recyclers promoting the system

ICBC has promoted with posters to participating shops

This also promotes recycled parts to the end user and educates the general public on the benefit of using recycled parts

Allied Information Canada

Does your system compare OE pricing?

Individual IMS systems may contain that information and can be relayed through Allied's Information Management System

Allied Information Canada

What is your product roadmap?

Our mission – to provide a communications system that benefits both the recyclers and the stakeholders to help save the environment, help the insurance industry to save money

Allied's Information System is available now and has been for 15 years.

Pro Recyclers/QRP Canada

Thank you!